STUDENT PROFILES 2014

Chloe Danvers

University of Adelaide

Double Degree Bachelor of Law and International Studies

I have been extremely interested in human rights all my life and am passionate about incorporating a commitment social justice into my future working life. I spent a lot of time considering which career would allow me to make the most difference.

This lead me to decide on a double degree in Law and International Studies which allows me to combine a career in politics, human rights and the legal profession. As my family would tell you, I love arguing and have strong opinions on certain political matters, however, I am keen to gain an understanding of other people’s views. I am hopeful that law will allow me to belong to a profession where these opportunities are central. I have just started my course and I absolutely love it. The people are so diverse and interesting and my subjects are giving me a greater understanding of how the world actually works. As my lecturer said, “No one is above the law”.

I am really missing all of my teachers and the care and support which Wildy offered. The teachers and non-teaching staff really go above and beyond and for that I will always be so grateful. SACE gave me the room to not only learn but also follow my passions in Drama, Science and the Humanities. It definitely prepared me for university, especially the Research Project, which allowed me to gain an understanding about how to be an independent thinker, explore interesting ideas and look for the credibility within sources. I am so proud of our Year level’s results and wish all the girls the best for their future endeavours. Remember we will always be Wildy girls at heart.

Julia English

RMIT

Fashion Design

While studying accelerated Maths and taking part in Maths competitions at School, I was also developing a passion for sewing and dress-making after my mum taught me to sew at the age of 8. Some of my casual and formal wear items were recognised in the Apex Australia Teenage Fashion Awards in 2013 and 2014, and I made it to the national level of the awards both years. I made my formal dress in Year 11 and Year 12, and also recently won a Colour Cosmetics full day photo shoot, involving six of my garments.

I have started my course in Fashion Design and while it has been a whirlwind, I have loved the variety and depth with which my course explores fashion. The exploration of the fashion history and its contemporary role has been engagingly philosophical, in contrast to the more practical tutorials on construction and pattern making. Overall, I am loving Melbourne, particularly the diversity of people and freedom to explore fashion through everyday wear.

Western Australia Academy of Performing Arts

Bachelor of Arts (Dance)

Since the age of 8, when I started my dance training, I have been passionate about a future in the dance industry. In the last three years I undertook fulltime training at Terry Simpson Studios, along with my educational studies at Wildy, and became particularly focused on a contemporary dance career.

Mid-2014 I travelled around Australia doing various auditions, from which I was offered a position in the Bachelor of Arts (Dance) course at the Western Australia Academy of Performing Arts. My course is a 3-year, fulltime contemporary dance focused program. I chose to take this opportunity as it offered the most in regards to my dream of becoming a professional dancer.

Wildy encouraged me to pursue my dreams and offered endless support in both my dance pursuits and education. The teachers and girls taught me to aim high and grasp every opportunity thrown my way.

Erica Musgrove

University of Melbourne

Bachelor of Biomedicine/ Doctor of Medicine

As I have always had an interest in the workings of the human body, a passion for health and a desire to serve others in my community, I have chosen to study medicine.

After receiving my Year 12 results I accepted my offer of the Chancellor’s Scholarship in the Bachelor of Biomedicine at the University of Melbourne.

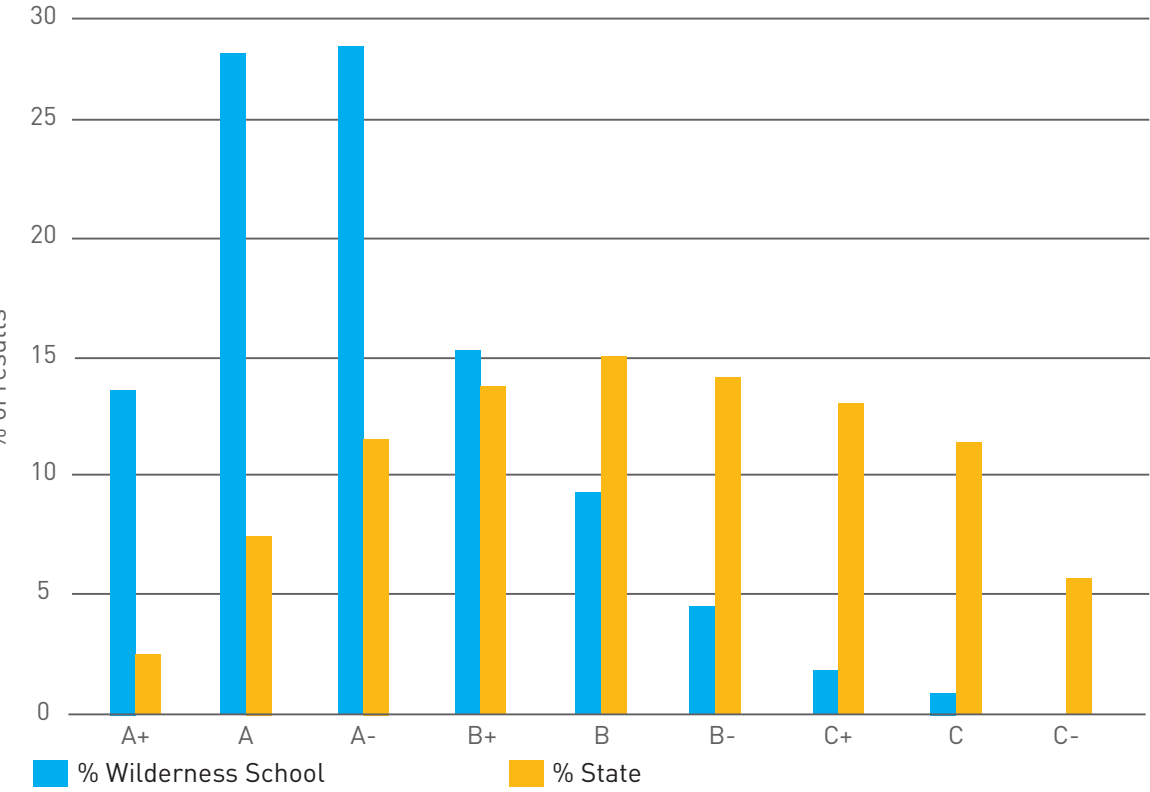

The Chancellor’s Scholarship is a wonderful opportunity, as it covers the cost of my undergraduate degree and I receive a contribution towards living expenses, an exchange bonus and personal mentoring. Additionally, I have a guaranteed place in the graduate Doctor of Medicine (MD) program after the successful completion of my Biomedical degree.

I will be studying Biomedicine for three years, and then I intend to undertake the four-year Doctor of Medicine program. I am also hoping to go on exchange either to France or Canada in second semester next year. Alongside my university studies I will be teaching regular yoga classes.

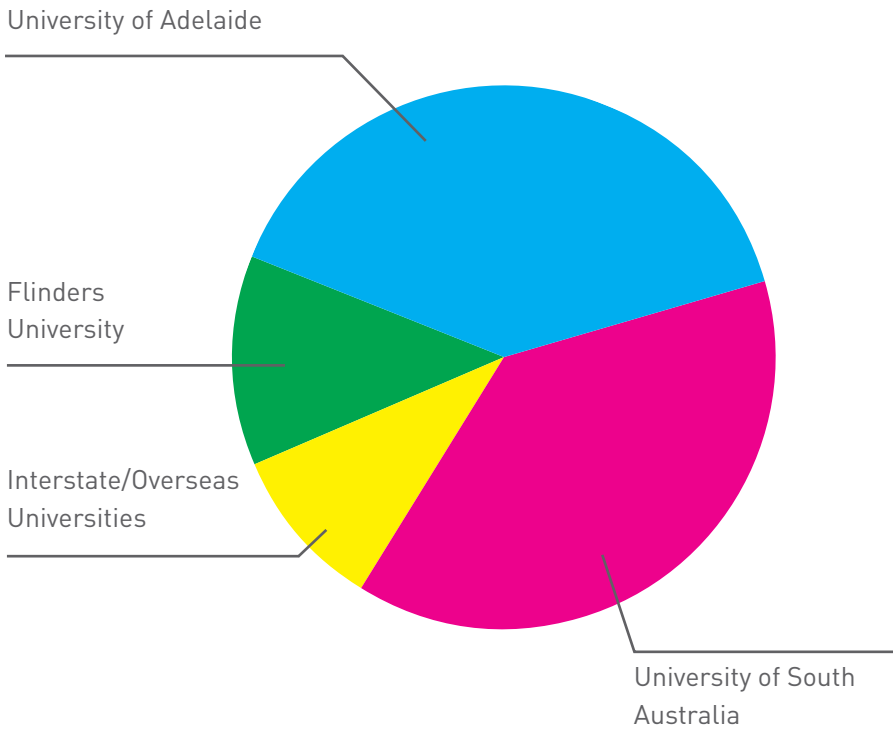

My education at Wilderness was instrumental in allowing me to achieve so highly in the SACE and pursuing my dream of becoming a doctor. I received amazing support from all of my teachers and the staff at Wilderness, who went above and beyond to ensure I had every opportunity to succeed. I also made friendships, both with boarders and day girls, which will last a lifetime.
